Venus - The planet of Beauty

One fine evening I was keeping myself busy by scrolling TV channels ups and downs, That day was full of boredom for me and however I had to pass my time, Fortunately we have lots of option to engage ourselves, Its not like early days When we don't had TV , Cell phones or internet , Now we have media or own choice to be busy with . That boredom and time pass with remote enabled me to think "why we are so lucky that we have such facilities of entertainment and communication.. " and searched answer by own.

Just like dasha system in a personal horoscope different portions of ages (yug /centuries/ decades) are also rules by different planets, This can be defined by natural dasha, tenure of such natural dasha can differ planet to planet, same like vimshontari dasha span can also be bigger or smaller according to size or distance of the planet from the earth. Yet at this position one can not conclude specific tenure to such dasha , either this can be bunch of years , centuries or decades. It is very important to analyse these thoughts in logical manner, there was some period when mughals were the rulers, rajputs and Marathas fought very tough battles with them and performed best to stop them from establishing kingdom but they couldnt, all three communities were real worriers, mughals were very cruels and very violent , they performed all worst sins to established there kingdom, Marathas and Rajputs fought with bravery but always maintained their dharma, if u now analyse this period astrologically , at one glance u will define them as martian people , all were with stong mars , it was very visible from there personality that everyone of them had very strong mars, some had very positive mars so they maintained their dharma but anothers had afflicated mars so they fought against dharma, you can compare them with police and criminals , one uses power to establish law and another to break law.

We can easily understand situations at those times were purely dominated by mars, everywhere violence , blood , misuse of power, main business was only agriculture (land related to mars), states and country were in hands of powerfull people. Planets have always shown their effects in every stage of ages, there was also some period which u can define as period of Jupiter, everywhere peace was established that time, people used to respect each other, they values for culture and relationships. Money and Gold has not value . That was the period when all such big temples and religious places got build, Teachers (guru) had a special place in society and hearts too. One only need to compare situations of that time with qualities of Jupiter, Guru has showered best of his fragrance during those days.

We are living in modern world, things are moving very fast, new developments are taking place, New vehicles with new designs with best of available luxuries, Media and entertainment industry is at its high position, Everything is glamourised. Either you talk about cars , mobiles phones or other essential items , everything is demanded with best luxuries , market is purely brand and luxury dominated. Travel facilities have grown and made the world so small, media has reached at every corner of world, People have become more passionate, essential needs have become status symbol, Once people used to buy cars for their need now owing so many cars with different and best brands has become status symbol. People spend money on all the need but with their status.

Females have come out from the kitchens and heading the top positions in different industries and performing excellent work, we are the proud example where our president is a female. Venus is a feminine planet who represents, travel, entertainment, media, luxuries, sex , openness and passion. Venus is fully dominating current age with its effects, its all the flavours can be seen on society and around us in every aspect. Analysis clearly indicates we are living in venus dominating age, each and every aspect of our life is affected in venus.

Ruling diety of venus is goddess laxmi , to whom we welcome every deewali by decorating homes, offering verity of sweets and different dishes and by wearing new cloths. Venus the planet of beauty, fashion, luxuries and fame known as rajasik planet, planet who gives royal life style, people who used to live royal and luxuries life are found with strong venus in their horoscope , people who are laking all these comforts are found with week venus in their horoscope, best way to attract money is to attract venus. We are in age of venus best remedy to exalt venus is to live with royal nature, It doesn't means that everyone can not live life life in such way, it is not important that we wear new and fashionable cloths everyday but atleast one can wear wash and ironed cloths, one can use perfumes with affordable capacity, one can respect females. Not necessary to live with modern furniture but one can always keep office and home clean and well systemetic , keep habit of eat fresh prepared food, avoid habit of preparing extra food.

These small habits will help to make venus stronger which will help u earn more n more money and smooth comfortable life.
