

Marriage

Arranged or Love

A very common query rises in every mind rather say every heart who has crossed his / her teen age, Either they are fallen in love with someone or not, they like somebody or not but they always think in same direction in which the subject of this paper is..

Astrologically it is easy to understand for an astrologer about the type of marriage, as per the tradition there are eight types of marriages described in classics but here in present discussion that is not in our list. Our main subject of discussion is that native will go for marriage of his/her own choice, better say love marriage where boy and girl meet first, understand each other and decide to get married then parents and society come to know, Or native will go for arranged marriage where parents seek the partner for him/her according to their choice and after consent of the native fix up the marriage.

So first understand the list of planets or combination which involved in deciding the type of marriage.

Scientifically there are four ruling elements who balance a human body, in fact different branches of medical science also take this as a base to understand the nature and characteristics of native. Venus is the planet who represents 'Jal Tatwa' means watery element, if strong in chart or placed in rasi of watery element then gives one romantic /lovable nature, creativity and attraction towards opp. sex. Chances of falling in love with someone of such kind of people become very high. Moon is another planet of watery element as Venus gives one romantic and lovable nature, moon makes one very emotional if connected with watery sign in horoscope, added to his connection with venus of moon (Emotions + Love) adds more flavors in his nature and native becomes very emotional specially in case of love with opp. Sex.

There is a saying that female is like a venus and male is like a mars, same Mars gives the person passion and attraction towards opp. Sex . As Mars belongs the Fiery nature who makes a person passionate. Combination of Mars with moon and venus makes one some kind of bold or forward in relations, When he is with venus native doesn't waste his time in expressing his emotions, relationship became pure but very practical, native believe in clear transaction (give and take) of love , romance or emotions.

Fifth house of the horoscope decides the nature of a person rather say direction of the mind , if he or his lord is connected with the moon , mars or venus gives the direction towards the romance, emotions or passion, depends upon the nature of sign occupied by the fifth house and its lord, Where Seventh house of the horoscope deals in marriage, type of marriage and spouse so position of 7th house and its lord plays important role in deciding the type of marriage. Any connection of 7th house lord with the 5th house lord gives success in love relationship which turns up into a good married. How will be married life is subject is beyond the discussion.

Connection between 7th house lord and venus , 7th house lord with 5th house or 5th house lord also gives success in the marriage. Same where negative relationship between said planets will never give success in love relationship, if 5th house goes in negative placement or connected with negative planets natives suffers severe breakups in their love relationships.

Let's discuss few example...

Female candidate of above chart has been very bold and forward from the very young age , combination of moon and mars was responsible for giving her such nature, aspect of both the planets on 7th house had given her mindset of choosing partner of own choice, She fallen in relationship with a guy and boldly married to him. At first glance there is no direct combination between any of the discussed planet, but 7th house lord sun and 5th house lord mercury are in same nakshtra , which is lorded by the 7th house lord sun.

Very clear picture of conjunction (placement together in same house) can be seen in this chart, 5th house has Capricorn sign lorded by the Saturn and 7th house has pisces sign lorded by the Jupiter both are placed together in 2nd house , this combination not only forced to native to fall in affair also helped her to make the success story of her love affair.

Strong relationship between 5th and 7th lords helps the native to convert the affair in marriage easily, whereas negative placement or enmity between both the planets creates strong barriers against their relationship.

Still there are some more combinations which helps us to understand the type of marriage or to let us know whether the relationship would convert in successful marriage or not, but those combinations can not be understood by common users, so ultimately opinion or discussion with astrologer is must.
